

HIGH END

BY SWEDSTYLE

HIGH-END. SCANDINAVIAN SPACES FOR CREATIVE MINDS.

Exclusive material meets functionality in next-gen office tables

With High-End, Swedstyle builds further on its heritage as the leading manufacturer of sit & stand desks and office tables in Scandinavia – while making a bold statement about the workspaces of tomorrow.

Design and choice of material are paramount in Swedstyle's High-End furniture. Innovative technology combined with built-in electronics and minimalistic, sleek frames, takes Swedstyle's height-adjustable tables to a whole new level of design. With carefully selected desktops for each frame, along with Swedish manufacturing and quality, High-End is spearheading the development of the workspaces of the future.

Characterized by clean lines, High-End is designed using quality material that speaks for itself. The result is a series of fully height-adjustable office tables and desks that are as functional as they are esthetically appealing. Furniture design that contributes to better ergonomics, making the workday more effective – while promoting creativity and team spirit at work.

PLECTRUM

A stylish, sit-stand table for creative meetings. The triangular tabletop with rounded corners creates a harmonious, relaxed impression, while the transition to the square shape of the legs adds an eye-catching angular twist to the table design. The straight lines of the legs in combination with the white pigmented tabletop in ash wood give the table a chic elegance.

Plectrum takes center stage in rooms where you enjoy spending a lot of time with colleagues and friends. The elegant design gives Plectrum added versatility, allowing it to double as a dining table at home as well.

PENTAGON INDUSTRY

Personality and attitude. As its name suggests, the Pentagon Industry office table has an industrial feel, where the rawness of the steel commands attention. The contrast of the dark grey tabletop, visible welding seams, and the clear, matte lacquer further contributes to the rustic feeling, while the tapered legs give the table a neat and elegant look. A height-adjustable table that means business, while promoting focused creativity.

A height-adjustable table designed to exude calm during creative meetings. Timeless minimalism combined with a large dose of playfulness makes Wagon Table immediately stand out in a large space.

The oval, white-pigmented tabletop in ash has a soft design language, juxtaposed with the square metal legs in white or black. Wheels in the same material as the tabletop make it easy to move the table around, while at the same time further enhancing the soft, welcoming feeling. A table you long to return to.

WAGON TABLE

NARROW /WIDE UP

A sit-stand conference table of unlimited possibilities and forms of expression. The rectangular design language creates a playfulness, building on the contrast between the narrow and wide side of the legs. Viewed from the long side, the legs take on a narrow appearance, while from the short side they give a wider impression. Elegant and stylish, or more robust and solid? Get different looks by being creative with the placement of the table. The rectangular shape and overhang of the white pigmented ash tabletop is designed to emphasize the unique shape of the legs and enhance the understated design. Narrow/ Wide Up is a conference table for rooms with large areas, where its distinctive legs are allowed to take center stage.

Narrow Wide Down is height-adjustable conference table that facilitates activity and efficiency at large meetings. Closely related to Narrow Wide Up, the legs of this table go from thick to narrow instead of the other way around. This gives Narrow Wide Down, in an elevated position, a more robust feeling than Narrow Wide Up.

The straight, clean lines of the legs and tabletop are reminiscent of a traditional conference table. The rectangularity of the legs creates a visual playfulness, giving the table a solid impression viewed from the short side, while a neater one viewed from the long side. Base in black or white matte lacquer with a tabletop in white-lasered ash. The Narrow Wide Down table calls for a large space to emphasize the shape of the legs and let them stand out.

A small meeting table with plenty of room for creative discussions. The understated design transitions effortlessly between the white-pigmented ash and the graphic legs in white or black, giving the table a uniform expression. The straight, clean lines of the square legs and tabletop are reinforced by the minimal tabletop overhang in line with the edge of the frame. This height-adjustable table combines intimacy and clarity in its design, functioning equally well as an office- or dining table.

TETRA SQUARE

TRIANGLE INDUSTRY

An office table that immediately catches the eye. Triangle Industry combines understated elegance with an industrial feel. The shape of the table is perceived as geometrically solid and playful, and the triangular design of rectangular tube legs provides the perfect transition to the frame and tabletop. Welding seams and burn marks enhance the rustic appearance of the table, with a frame treated in clear lacquer, enhancing the raw steel. The dark grey tabletop combined with the clear, matte lacquer, adds a clean, elegant finish, while the contrast of the tabletop creates an overall aesthetic look and feel. A table for people who value clean shapes and designs.

TETRA WORK

Sober minimalism at its best. Featuring clean, straight lines and narrow square legs, the Tetra Works height-adjustable table blends into all environments adding a distinct interior design element. The straight lines are further enhanced by a minimal tabletop overhang for a floating live-edge look. The dark grey tabletop combined with a matte finish in black or white, gives the table a discreet, elegant look – distinct from office tables.

The definition of agility. A table that you can move around with ease at the workplace or place in small spaces at home or in school environments. Thanks to battery-operated functionality, no power access is needed for the Mobile One A sit-stand table, which can easily be rolled out to the garden or terrace. The rectangular tabletop in white- or black-lasered ash rests on stylish, rectangular legs with a matte lacquered finish in black or white. The angled foot breaks with the straight lines, giving the table yet another dimension of futuristic elegance. The smart design allows you to easily slide a chair under the tabletop to save space, and the four swivel wheels can be effortlessly replaced with the accompanying table feet. Mobile One A works just as well as a height-adjustable table for speeches and presentations.

MOBILE ONE A

MOBILE ONE Q

Mobility for one or more. Despite its compact design and neat impression, the height-adjustable Mobile One Q table is versatile and mobile, with endless possibilities. The table's playful shape – with matched tabletop and feet – is a clear departure from the traditional office table. The drop-shaped tabletop in lasered ash gives the table symmetry and character, while the form facilitates creative meetings. The lasered ash reveals a distinct wood grain, breaking against the stylistic black or white legs and giving the table a more solid impression. Mobile One Q functions equally well as a table for one person or a group. Putting several Mobile One Q tables together, makes it possible to create different combinations as needed. The five swivel wheels can easily be replaced with table feet, also included. Battery powered functionality allows the table to be used everywhere.

TETRA RECTANGLE

Tetra Rectangle is a solid yet elegant height-adjustable table for larger meetings that call for a versatile, dynamic space. Switch effortlessly between sitting and standing to maximize energy levels and interaction during long meetings. With its narrow, square legs, Tetra Rectangle exudes a minimalistic yet appealingly solid impression. The straight lines are reinforced by a minimal tabletop overhang in line with the edge of the frame. The base, in black or white matte lacquer, complements the white-lasered tabletop in ash, creating a table that breathes life and conversation.

A table of endless possibilities. The Single Pedestal functions as the perfect speaker podium, side- or coffee table. Height-adjustable and available in several different sizes – the only limit is your imagination. Despite its small size, it is very stable. The square legs combined with the solid, crossed foot give it a quality impression. In harmony with the white tabletop, featuring a visible plywood core, Single Pedestal exudes a calm and harmonious look and feel that blends into all environments.
