Note!

When using your own existing cards or tags, always ensure in advance that they are compatible with Flexlock and that their reading capacity is adequate. If the cards or tags are faulty or inadequate, we cannot guarantee a correct functionality. Our recommendation is that a suitable test is performed, with the cards or tags in question and also with the same type of furniture with the material and thickness that will be used, to ensure a correct functionality.

Note!

To ensure a correct functionality with Flexlock and its RFID technique together with our cards, it is important to only mount the lock on doors made from wood, plastic or other non-conductive materials and with a thickness of no more than 25 mm. With other types of cards, materials and/or dimensions, there is no guarantee for a correct functionality.

Note!

When the battery is changed, the storage must not be closed until the function of the battery is verified. If the battery is missing or broken, you might not be able to open the lock again. (Refers to locks in Mode 2.) Test the lock with the front open!

NOTE! If your Flexlock should work properly, the battery must be a Flexlock branded battery available through Swedstyle or your Flexlock dealer. See www.flexlock.se for more instructions on how to change the battery.

Recycling

Recycling is to be done in accordance with national laws and regulations concerning the separation of electronics from other recyclable materials. Replaced batteries are to be left at designated recycling stations or be returned to the place of purchase. Detailed instructions and films are available at www.flexlock.se refer to these if there are any uncertainties when reading this manual.
